

Dear parents and carers

Positive behaviour is something we expect from all at Stoke Newington School & Sixth Form and from recent correspondence, you can see we are continually aiming for excellence in this area. To achieve this both in and out of the classroom, achievement points are now being issued for outstanding conduct outside of lessons. This does also mean that those who do not follow the school code whilst moving around school, will be issued with a behaviour point.

Behaviour points issued for corridor/playground defiance will result in a same day detention for 20 minutes. If a student receives more than one behaviour point throughout the day, they will remain in school for 45 minutes on that day. You will be notified via text message. Please ensure we have the correct telephone number on the system.

This will not affect the majority of our students but will help to address the few incidents where some students do not adhere to the school's expectations.

If you would like to find out more, please join us at the Parents' Forum on Tuesday 21st June at 7.00pm or alternatively contact me at school.

Yours faithfully
